Caitlin Hornyak Selected to ECAC
Women’s Hockey All-Star Team
Colgate sophomore Caitlin Hornyak (Middletown, Conn.) has been selected to represent the Raiders on the ECAC All-Star team.
The ECAC All-Stars was formed to give members of the ECAC-North league a chance to compete against the USA Hockey Women’s National Team in their “Visa Skate to Salt Lake” tour.
The team will take on the national team at Lynah

Colgate Gives Up Five Third Period Goals
As Maine Skates Away with a 5-1 Win
And the Weekend Sweep
HAMILTON, N.Y. – Maine sophomore Meagan Aarts (Watford, Ont.) tallied two goals, including the game-winner, as the Black Bears skated past Colgate for the weekend sweep, winning Sunday’s game 5-1.
All six goals were scored in the third period, as Raider rookie goaltender Linda-say Bourne (Redlands, Calif.) was outstanding between the pipes through two periods. Bourne recorded 25 saves through 40 minutes, including an incredible stick save on the doorstep with 4:30 remaining in the second. Maine’s Jarin Sjogren (Bengough, Sask.) deked and had a wide-open net, but a diving Bourne kept the score tied at 0-0.
Black Bear defenseman LeeAnne Irwin (Freeport, N.Y.) broke the game open 3:31 into the last stanza, when she buried a shot fed by freshman Cheryl White (Portage la Prairie, Manitoba). Aarts scored the eventual game-winner at 7:54, with Tracy Caridade (Sudbury, Ont.) adding Maine’s third goal less than three minutes later.
Colgate freshman Amanda Barre (Grafton, Ont.) robbed Maine senior goalie Amanda Cronin (York, Maine) of the shutout when she banged home her own rebound for an unassisted goal with less than 10 minutes to play.
The Black Bears dominated the shooting game, 35-16, with half of the Raiders’ shots coming in the third period. Bourne’s exceptional two-period performance in her first collegiate start was the only reason that Maine did not score before the last stanza, as Colgate was out-shot 25-8 through two. Cronin made 15 saves to give Maine its second win of the season.

ECAC HOCKEY

2001-02 COLGATE WOMEN'S ICE HOCKEY • INAUGURAL DIVISION I SEASON
After two games, the Raiders boast six players with points this season. Actually, that’s not technically correct, since none of them scored more than once against Maine. Avery McGlenn, Cheryl Setchell, and Amanda Barre each have a goal, while Katie Koch, Katie Breen, and Jen Fallon each have an assist. Colgate hopes to come away from this weekend’s series with Quinnipiac with more than just 1’s in the point column.

Pipe Dreams

Junior Jen Burtraw and freshman Lindsay Bourne split last weekend’s series against Maine, with Burtraw making 20 saves on 26 shots during Saturday’s 6-2 loss, and Bourne turning in a perfect performance through 40 minutes, but giving up five goals in the third period on Sunday.

Colgate’s third netminder, rookie Rebecca Lahar, is no doubt itching to get on the ice after she was forced to sit out last weekend after battling an illness throughout the week.

Generation G

That is, G as in goals. That’s what Colgate’s freshman class is turning out to be, with two of the Raiders’ three goals on the season coming off the sticks of rookies Cheryl Setchell and Amanda Barre. Add to that an assist by freshman blue liner Jen Fallon, and you’re looking at a promising season for the youth of Colgate hockey.

Plus What?!

Despite the Raiders being a collective -35 on the plus/minus scale, Colgate winger Katie Koch avoided the negative trend of her teammates and came out a +1 after last weekend’s combined 11-3 loss to Maine, the only Raider to have a positive outcome after the sweep.

Ray of Hope

After the Black Bears came out of the second intermission firing, scoring three goals in less than six minutes, freshman Amanda Barre’s unassisted goal at 10:08 kept the Raiders from being shutout in their second game of the season.

Kicking It Off
For the season weekend in a row, Colgate is helping an ECAC East team kick off their season. Last weekend, Maine swept the Raiders to start the year 2-0. This weekend, Colgate will look to start Quinnipiac’s season 0-2 by evening up their own record.

Like the Raiders, Quinnipiac is playing its first Division I schedule this year. However, this is also the Braves’ first varsity season.

Testing the Waters
Before facing its first Division I opponents, Quinnipiac tested its team against the women’s club squad from Boston University. In the 9-1 thrashing that the Braves handed the Terriers, QU freshman Gill Gallagher dished out four goals and a helper, including two tallies in the first period. Sophomore Natalie Phelps had a pair of scores, while Debbie Beaudoin, Ashley Berglund, and Jayne Riley also scored for the Braves.

Seeing Stars (and Stripes)
Quinnipiac junior Serena Hillman represented the Braves in the ECAC East’s exhibition game against the US National Team on October 14 at Northeastern. Not surprisingly, the ECAC East All-Stars received a pounding from the Salt Lake-bound Olympic Team, with the scoreboard reading 16-0 at the end of the game. Earlier in its tour, the US Team played a pair of games against the WCHA All-Stars, winning 3-0 and 6-1. The last college hockey All-Star team that the National Team will face will be the ECAC North All-Stars, which includes Colgate’s Caitlin Hornyak, on Sunday at Cornell’s Lynah Rink.

2001-02 COLGATE WOMEN’S ICE HOCKEY - INAUGURAL DIVISION I SEASON
University of Minnesota-Duluth Retains No. 1 Ranking In USA Today/American Hockey Magazine Women's College Hockey Poll

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — The University of Minnesota-Duluth topped the USA Today/American Hockey Magazine Women’s College Hockey Poll for the third consecutive week following a series sweep of No. 8 Providence College. The Bulldogs defeated the Friars, 5-3, on Friday night and shut them out, 1-0, on Saturday. Providence College climbed to No. 8 after their strong showing against the Bulldogs.

The remainder of the top-seven remained unchanged. No. 4 University of Wisconsin took two games from St. Cloud State University on the road to improve to 2-0-0 and No. 7 University of Minnesota also picked up two wins to start off its season, sweeping Minnesota State University-Mankato at home. Niagara University entered the poll at No. 10, leaping over Ohio State University, which went 1-0-1 in a series against Bemidji State University.

This week’s schedule features an in-state battle when No. 1 University of Minnesota-Duluth hosts No. 7 University of Minnesota. Also this week, No. 3 St. Lawrence University opens its season by traveling to Mercyhurst College for two contests, while No. 6 University of New Hampshire entertains Ohio State University for a pair of games.

The fifth annual USA Today/American Hockey Magazine Women’s College Hockey Poll is conducted each week in conjunction with the American Hockey Coaches Association. The poll includes input from women’s college ice hockey coaches and journalists, as well as composite votes from officers of the American Hockey Coaches Association and American Hockey Magazine, the official publication of USA Hockey.
