Colgate Weekend Recap (Nov. 4-5)

Colgate swept its opponents in its first weekend of ECACHL competition. The Raiders shutout Brown, 3-0 on Friday and defeated Yale, 4-2 on Saturday. The shutout over Brown was the first shutout and second straight victory over the Bears.

The first period went scoreless but Colgate dominated from the drop of the puck, outshooting Brown, who was receiving votes in both national polls, 17-3. Cassie Reid ignited the Colgate offense with her first goal of the season at 7:21 of the second. Reid picked up a pass at the redline and split her two defenders creating a mini breakaway. With the Brown defenders battling to stay with her, Reid wristed a high shot glove-side for the goal.

Colgate freshman Sam Hunt tallied her first of two man-advantage goals at 15:07 of the second. Reid streaked down the right side boards, stopped short just as she crossed the blue line, and sent a drop pass to Hunt. Hunt cut into the slot and slid the puck five-hole.

Colgate was able to capitalize on its second 5-on-3 opportunity of the game at 10:59 of the third period. Defender Mallory Johnston sent a cross-ice pass to Hunt who picked up her own rebound and found an opening in the goal.

The Raiders outshot the Bears 28-20 in the contest, with Wheeler making 20 saves and Shipe stopping 25 saves.

On Saturday, Colgate took an early lead at 4:23 of the first period when the Raiders were able to convert on their first power-play attempt. Reid received a Johnston pass behind the net, circled in and sent a pass to McNaughton who was waiting on the doorstep. McNaughton sent a straight shot on Sarah Love that went high over her shoulder and to the back of the net.

Becky Irvine was at the red line right in front of her team bench as both teams were making line changes. Irvine passed on the net with no resistance from the Bulldogs and sent a shot through the five-hole to give the Raiders the two-goal cushion at 6:53 of the first period.

With Yale being called for the first penalty of the second period, Colgate scored its third of the game at 12:12 of the period. Mallory Johnston sent a cross-ice pass to Hunt who received a drop pass from Reid at the redline and skated into the slot for the goal.

stanza, a hooking infraction, Colgate set up in the power-play formation. Hunt positioned on the left side, sent a pass to Kiira Dosdall at the point. Dosdall shifted the puck to the upper right corner to put the Bulldogs on the board. With a face-off low in the Yale zone won by Sheila Zingler, Deena Caplette picked up the puck and sent a cross-ice pass to Kristin Savard, who was able to beat Wheeler in net at 15:08 of the second stanza to cut the Raider lead to 3-2.

Yale mounted a comeback when they tallied a man-advantage goal at 9:20 of the second. With a 2-on-1 break from the blue line, Kristen Stupay skated down the left side boards and passed to Jenna Spring. Spring lofted the puck to the upper right corner to put the Bulldogs on the board. With a face-off low in the Yale zone won by Sheila Zingler, Deena Caplette picked up the puck and sent a cross-ice pass to Kristin Savard, who was able to beat Wheeler in net at 15:08 of the second stanza to cut the Raider lead to 3-2.

The Bulldogs came out of the locker room knowing they were down by just one goal. Wheeler stacked the pads on all 12 Yale shots, stopping some stunners, allowing Colgate to settle back into their groove and find their momentum. Yale called a timeout with just 3:03 remaining and after struggling to find their offense, they pulled Love at 1:29 for the extra attacker. Just seconds later Ashley Bradford capitalized on the wide open net and sealed the victory for the Raiders with an unassisted tally, her first marker of the season.

Shots were even at 25 apiece, with Wheeler making 23 saves, while Love stopped 21.

SCOUTING THE COLONIALS
Robert Morris is in its first year of Division I and first year of even having a varsity team. As expected, the Colonials have struggled out of the gate posting a 1-6 record. They lost sets to Maine and RPI, lost a game to ECACHL Harvard and split with Vermont. In the first game against the Catamounts, Vermont took an early 1-0 lead in the first period, but the Colonials battled back with two power-play goals from Kathryn Traynor and Samantha Ulrich. The young squad is led by Kristin Miles and Ali Proodiran who both have three points. Brianne McLaughlin has appeared in all seven games for the Colonials and has a 3.01 goals against average and a .920 save percentage. Quinn Caggiula has seen 40 minutes between the pipes, allowing three goals and turning away 26 shots.

HOME SWEET HOME
Colgate continues its nine-game homestand with game five. Since 2001, the Raiders are 61-44-9 at home, outscoring their opponents by 114 goals (372-258). In November, Colgate owns a 28-20-1 record with a 17-8-1 record at Starr Rink during that same month.

COLGATE CONNECTIONS
Colgate’s Lisa Dodd and Ruth Fish both played for the Syracuse Stars, the same team that RMU’s Morgan Beikrich played for.

THE LAMP LIGHTERS
Junior defender Tara French leads all Raiders in scoring with one goal and eight assists. Freshman Sam Hunt is second on the team with six points, while Allison Paiano and Cassie Reid are tied for third with five points.

BEHIND THE MASK
Junior Brook Wheeler has started all eight of Colgate’s games this season, posting a 3-3-2 record. She owns a 2.19 goals against average and an .913 save percentage. She made a career-high 44 saves against Providence earlier this season. For the season she has made 179 saves in just nine games, averaging at least 22 stops per game.

LOOMING LANDMARKS
Coach Wiley is three wins away from his 50th win as a head coach at Colgate and in his career. Allison Paiano and Becky Irvine are on mark to break into the century club; with Paiano needing 15 points and Irvine looking for 16.

CONTROLLING THE CIRCLE
Senior Allison Paiano is the team’s leading face-off contender owning a .577 win percentage. She has won 15 of 26 draws at the circle. Becky Irvine isn’t far behind with a 55.7% of wins, going 88-for-158 at the dot. Cassie Reid has won 24 and lost 21, and Sam Hunt has taken 78 and given up 72 to each be over the 50% percent mark.

HEY ROOKIE
The seven freshmen have scored 40% of Colgate’s goals this season, including five of its eight power-play tallies. The newbies own 26.8 percentage of the points scored and 19.2 percent of the assists recorded.

SIN BINNERS
Colgate is averaging 12.5 penalty minutes per game, while their opponents are averaging 1.5 fewer minutes with 11. Three Raiders are tied for the most penalty minutes, Cassie Reid, Sam Hunt and Allison Paiano, who have each spent 14 minutes in the box. The Raiders 100 penalty minutes in eight contests ranks them No. 24 in the country.

SPECIAL TEAMS
Colgate’s power play is 11th in the nation and its combined special teams sit them at No. 7 in the country. The team is fourth in the league in power play and penalty kill, and third in combined special teams. The Raiders have a 19.5 power play percentage, going 8-for-41, and have killed off 40-of-47 penalties combined special teams. The team is fourth in the nation and its combined special teams sit them at No. 7 in the country.

TOUGH ENOUGH
The Raiders will face seven of the 10 teams that were ranked in the USCHO.com Preseason Poll. They include No. 1 St. Lawrence, No. 5 Mercyhurst, No. 6 New Hampshire, No. 7 Harvard, No. 8 Dartmouth, No. 9 Providence and No. 10 Princeton.

HEY NOW YOUR’RE AN ALL-STAR
Tara French, Becky Irvine and Allison Paiano were members of the ECAC Hockey League All-Star team that competed against the U.S. National Team in an exhibition contest on Nov. 1. Team USA won the contest, held at Yale University, 6-2. To see photos from the game go to www.goColgateRaiders.com, select women's ice hockey and click on the link on the right nav bar.

RAIDERS RETURN TO THE RANKINGS
Colgate is receiving three votes in the US College Hockey Online (USCHO) Division I Women’s Poll that was released on Monday. This is the second time this season that the Raiders are receiving votes, as Colgate earned two in the pre-season poll.

The Raiders earned the votes after posting the weekend sweep of ECACHL opponents Brown and Yale. Brown received votes last week after a win over No. 5 UNH but did not this week after being shutout by Colgate, 3-0.

Also receiving votes this week is Minnesota State, Boston College and Providence, who Colgate went 0-1-1 with earlier this season. ECACHL member St. Lawrence tops the poll with the No. 1 ranking and 14 of 15 first-place votes.

COLGATE CAPTURES TWO WEEKLY AWARDS
Sophomore center Cassie Reid was named the ECAC Hockey League Player of the Week and junior goaltender Brook Wheeler was named Goaltender of the Week for the week ending November 6, it was announced by the league office last Monday.

Reid scored two goals and added three assists to lead all Raiders in scoring as Colgate swept Brown and Yale at Starr Rink over the weekend. The third-line center had a hand in all three Colgate goals in a 3-0 victory over Brown on Friday. She scored the game-winning goal and helped to ignite the Colgate offense in the shutout. On Saturday, Reid assisted on the first Colgate goal and scored the third to help give the Raiders a 4-2 win over Yale. It’s Reid’s first ECACHL weekly award of her career.

Brook Wheeler earned her first ECACHL Goaltender of the Week award of the 2005-06 campaign after making 23 saves against Brown on Friday for her first collegiate shutout of the season and first over an ECACHL opponent this year. On Saturday, Wheeler held her opponents scoreless through the first 29:20, allowing Colgate to reach a 3-0 lead. With Yale down by just one, the Bulldogs entered the ice in the third with a vengeance, peppering Wheeler with shots but she held on stopping some stunners. She was also able to hold off the extra attacker in the final 1:29 of the game. This is the first time of her career that Wheeler has posted back-to-back ECACHL wins over two different teams.

THE COMING ATTRACTIONS
The Raiders will host Brock University (St. Catherine’s, Ont.) on Sunday at 2 p.m., in an exhibition contest. This will be the second Canadian team to visit Starr Rink this season.

This is the first time since the Raiders went Division I in 2001-02 that they’ve played exhibitions games. On October 2, Colgate defeated the Toronto Junior Aeros, 6-2. This is the first Canadian university squad that Colgate has ever played and just the third Canadian team to visit Starr Rink.
